The Labyrinth in the Field

at Edgecomb Community Church

Labyrinth in the Field provides opportunities for meditation and spiritual practice in a natural setting.

It is open to all people.

The ancient practice of walking a labyrinth has been known to nearly all cultures and religions around the globe.

Many find that following a path to the center stills the mind and opens the heart.

Some walk labyrinths for relaxation.

Some walk as a form of prayer.

Still others walk as meditation to seek a deeper tranquility.

The path, is to be walked deliberately. From the entrance, a single route winds its way to the center.

It is not a maze – that are no dead ends.

Return by the same path.

Thank you Thom & Sue Sikes for all your help in making the labyrinth a reality!
